The Aeolian is published by the Division of University Relations at Georgia Southwestern State University.

The name Aeolian derives from Aeolus, appointed by the mythological god Zeus to be the keeper of the winds — both to calm and to arouse them. He was the King of the Aeolian Islands.

In Memory—Georgia Southwestern students light candles in remembrance of 9/11 victims on the campus front lawn. More than 100 people, including representatives of 33 student organizations, gathered to pay their respects. The service included the ceremonial lowering of the American flag, remarks from GSW President Michael L. Hanes, Ph.D., remarks from student leaders including dramatic readings, and a rendition of "God Bless America" led by the Chamber Singers. The annual remembrance has become a tradition for the campus community. A video clip of the event is available online at www.gsw.edu/news.
